

WICKEDNESS OF OIL COMPANY AGAIN EXPOSED

Government Produces Evidence Showing Profits of Standard Made from Pipe Lines.

BRIEBRY NOW CHARGED IN THE BUCKEYE STATE

Mrs. Chase Thompson Said She Was Asked to Persuade Her Husband to Hang Jury—Bribe Promised.

NEW YORK, September 27.—The Indiana Pipe Line company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, made a profit of $4,081,022 in 1903 on a total investment of $2,428,758, according to the company figures produced by George Chesboro, controller of the National Pipe Line company, who appeared as a witness today in the federal suit against the oil combine. Chesboro testified that the Indiana Pipe Line company was a common carrier and engaged in the transportation of oil. From the balance sheets of the company Frank B. Kellogg, conducting the government case, sought to show that the Indiana company is making excessive profits and that it maintained a high schedule of tariffs to prevent shipments of oil by independent oil producers.

Archbold's Warning
NEW YORK, September 27.—John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, issued a general notice today to the effect that false and injurious statements are being scattered broadcast as from a representative of the Standard Oil company, and warning the public that no credit should be given any statement purporting to emanate from the Standard Oil company unless signed by an executive official of the company or its designated attorney.

More Sins Charged
FINDLAY, Ohio, September 27.—L. B. Williamson was arrested yesterday as an indictment charging him with attempting to bribe Chase Thompson, a juror in the case of the State of Ohio against the Standard Oil company, which was tried here last June. Mrs. Thompson said Williamson asked her to persuade her husband to disagree and hang the jury. On final vote the jury was eight to four for conviction. Williamson admitted today that he made the proposition to Mrs. Thompson, saying her husband would be paid from $500 to $1,000 should the jury disagree.

SAIL TO PACIFIC AGAIN POSTPONED

Installation Changes in Battleships Has Been Declared Necessary by Department

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—As a result of installation of changes found to be necessary in the battleship under Admiral Evans, the fleet now under orders to sail for the Pacific, it has been found that an additional period of sixty days must be spent by the big ships in the navy yards, where they are undergoing repairs required to fit them for the voyage. It is hoped, however, that the additional work can be executed without delaying the fleet beyond the date set for its departure December 15. The new work will consist of the installation in each ship of a system of fire control, involving the construction below the protected deck of half a dozen separate telephone booth exchanges. These little booths connect not only with the telephones, but by voice tubes with the captain's, located on the bridge and in the conning tower. There will be one booth for each caliber gun in order that the commanding officer can direct personally the fire of guns at his will.

BISBEE ROMANCE WITH A FINISH PROVING HAPPY

BISBEE, Ariz., September 27.—A romance with a happy ending in marriage culminated Saturday night when Miss Madeline Carretto, who arrived in the city Friday from Italy, was joined in matrimony to Antonio Giacomino by Justice Hogan in the presence of several of the friends of the contracting parties. For more than ten years the lovers, who met by proxy, as it were, falling in love with the photographs of each other, have been corresponding. The groom has been laboring in Bisbee to attain a competence in order that he might gain the hand of the girl whose picture had won his heart. The date was finally set and immediately upon her arrival here the couple applied to Judge Hogan for a license. Miss Carretto is an attractive young woman. Her husband has been a resident of the section for more than twelve years and has many friends who wish both joy in their new state.

SUIT AGAINST SCOBLE & SOBEY

Attachment Levied on Stock of Goods Recently Purchased by Morehead & Lund

In an effort to satisfy a claim amounting to $1,935.24, alleged to be due from Scoble, Sobe & Co., the Solomon-Wickham company, wholesale grocers, yesterday levied on attachment on the stock of groceries recently sold by Scoble, Sobe & Co. to Morehead & Lund. The natural presumption is that the wholesale house believed that the transfer of the stock was not valid and that Scoble and Sobe were the real owners. After the store had been closed about three hours Morehead & Lund put up a bond, reopened the store and a rushing business was done during the balance of the day.

In an interview last night Mr. Morehead stated that the firm of Morehead & Lund had purchased the stock in good faith for something like $5,000 on September 10, and that $1,000 of the purchase price had been paid in spot cash and that none of the deferred payments are due, but that they will be promptly met. He further stated that the new firm did not agree, upon taking over the business, to assume any of the liabilities of the Scoble, Sobe & Co. "We have employed as good legal talent as there is in the city," said Mr. Morehead in conclusion, "and we are not worrying in the least. You can say to your readers that Morehead & Lund will continue this business and that there will be no interruptions in the future."

Weinberger & Elliott represent the Solomon-Wickham company and Rawlins & Little are looking after the interests of Morehead & Lund.

STILL WRANGLING OVER YACHT RACE

Fife Willing to Design Boat for Sir Tom to Sail Under Universal Rule

By Associated Press.
LONDON, September 27.—The Royal Irish Yacht club will wire a reply to the New York Yacht club's resolution in declining Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge. Their dispatch will further intimate under what conditions Sir Thomas proposed to send another challenge. This decision was reached after a long conference with William Fife, the designer, who, it is stated by Sir Thomas yesterday, positively refuses to design a yacht to race for the cup under the old rules of the yacht club. Fife, however, is willing to design a yacht for the purpose under the "universal rule," which has been in use in America for four or five years.

LINCOLN, Neb., September 27.—The church trial of Rev. William P. Ferguson of the Methodist church, University Place, was resumed this afternoon with Mrs. E. A. Cross occupying the witness chair. FARMER DRUNK CONDUCTS CASE FIXES PENALTY

George Kirtland, a well-to-do rancher of the Valley, who makes frequent visits to Globe for the sole purpose of acquiring a jug, was arrested yesterday for intoxication and taken before Judge Thomas. The judge recognized Kirtland as an old offender, and asked him what he thought ought to be done with a man who would get drunk so often. Kirtland replied that he hardly knew what he would do, and the court answered that, believing him to be an honest man, he would appoint him as judge to try his own case. Kirtland made a short speech in which he said that some leniency should be shown on account of the influence of long habit and because his was never a case of willful violation of the law. "Nevertheless," he concluded, "for repeated failure to heed the warnings of this court I fine you the sum of $10."

EXCITING BADGER FIGHT LAST NIGHT

New Court Reporter Officially—Belief that Bulldog Was Doped

The first badger fight to take place in Globe for over two months occurred in the rear of the Dominion hotel last night and was attended by several hundred enthusiasts. There was only one serious drawback to the contest and that was the apathetic attitude of the bulldog, which, although having been carefully groomed for the fight by Ralph Sturges, did not put up much of a scrap. This led to the charge that the dog had been doped, although a careful examination by Dr. Hucumbe and Dr. Wilson failed to reveal any trace of dope. The fight was not so bloody as others which have been pulled off in the corral of the Dominion, but it was very exciting while it lasted, especially to those who were new to the game.

E. B. Van Veen, the new court reporter for the district, who recently arrived here from Denver, was selected to "pull" the badger, and C. E. Morehouse, a well known Los Angeles traveling man, acted as timekeeper. The badger's seconds were Leslie George, Maury Grider and M. E. Conboy, while Sturges, Doc Reum and Billy Abrams looked after the dog's interests. It is unnecessary to go into the details of the brutal contest, but the dog was soon down and out, the badger emerging from the fray with only a few picks. Officer Lowthian butted in while Messrs. Van Veen and Morehouse were doing the honors in the buffet and attempted to place them under arrest, but the crowd interfered, and for a time it looked as though the officer would be roughly handled. He finally consented to call it off, providing the two gentlemen would refrain from pulling badgers in the future, to which they gladly consented.

AMATEURS PRESENT CATCHY PROGRAM AT IRIS THEATER

Last night was amateur night at the Iris theater and crowds of people were turned away at both performances. The S. R. O. sign was in evidence long before the performance started.

The audience was treated to a monologue in black face by J. S. Ryan, a silly kid act by George King which was a genuine hit and showed real talent for this kind of a stunt, a con song with banjo accompaniment by Mr. Harry Temple which won great applause. A cornet solo by Mr. McNally also got a good hand. And last but not least a pie eating contest which was indulged in by three small boys brought screams of laughter.

Mr. Keith announced that he has some very fine moving pictures on the road now which will be shown in the near future. He also promises some genuine surprises for next amateur night. Some of these are being rehearsed every day.

FOUR CROPS OF APPLES FROM SAME ORCHARD IN ONE YEAR

YUMA, Ariz., September 27.—Three crops of apples harvested, and the prospects good for a fourth crop, is the remarkable record made by S. P. Huss, a prominent orchardist of the Yuma valley, from a cluster of Maiden Blush apple trees. The first crop was picked in May, the second crop in August, and the third crop is now about the size of walnuts and will mature in another month. Blossoms are again appearing on the trees for a fourth crop. It might be presumed that in another year, with the aid of the warm and salubrious climate of Yuma county, five crops of apples are not beyond the realm of possibility.

BOYCOTT LIST A GO UNTIL COURT FORBIDS

Buck Stove and Range Company Asks for Injunction Against Federation of Labor

OBJECT OF LIST IS NOT TO INTIMIDATE COMPANY

Specific Denial Is Made of Any Conspiracy to Boycott, Injure or Destroy the Business of the Buck Stove People.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—That the American Federation of Labor will continue to publish a boycott list until prevented by the courts is specifically set forth in an answer of the federation to a complaint of the Buck Stove & Range company, asking for an injunction against its publication which was filed in the supreme court of the United States today.

The answer announces that it is the intention of the federation to "continue to adhere to the constitution, rules and regulations of the federation concerning the publication of complainants named in the 'we don't patronize' list of the federation unless prevented by due process of law."

The federation denies any purpose of the intimidation of anyone, but it admits that it has given its approval to certain boycotts. It denied, however, the purpose of the "don't patronize" list was to injure persons named in it. A specific denial is made of any conspiracy to boycott, injure or destroy the business of the Buck company.

RUN A CRUSADE ON TENDERLOIN VAGS

City Authorities Are Advancing the Good Roads Movement

On charges of vagrancy, Fred Trowley and James Lansing were arraigned in Justice Thomas court yesterday afternoon. Trowley was found guilty and sentenced to serve thirty days in jail. Lansing was discharged, no evidence having been introduced to prove him guilty.

The arrest and conviction of Trowley is perhaps the first step in a regular semi-occasional crusade by the officers on a class of young men who hang around the red light district; and, in some instances, exist on money given them by the unfortunate women of the district. There was no evidence introduced to show that Trowley had accepted any of this "tainted money," but there was plenty of testimony to the effect that he was a chronic loiterer in the "gilded palaces of sin." Officers state that there are quite a number of vags of this stripe hanging around the bawdy houses who will soon be assisting in the local good roads movement, unless, perchance, they take the hint and fly.

In reviewing the Belt's story of the presence of Mrs. Alice Blythe in the city looking for her babe, believed to have been kidnapped by a rejected lover, the El Paso Times says: "El Paso officers believe that this is the same woman who last week appeared in El Paso looking for aid and said that her husband had left her at Big Springs, Texas, and came on here to work in a foundry. She had a baby about 18 months old, or probably more, and solicited aid from the city and the Salvation Army."

SOLDIERS BEWARE! WHY DON'T YOU TRY? WERE THE SIGNALS

LOWELL, Ariz., September 27.—An attempted jail break at Lowell was frustrated at 12:30 this morning by Officer George Hunt, assisted by William King and George Boardman.

Somebody had passed a crowbar to the prisoners, and with this they first tried to pry open the door, but failed. Then they went to work digging a hole in the wall. Meanwhile the plot had been discovered, and the officers, with the two men named, waited outside for the jail birds to emerge. When they appeared they were driven back with six-shooters.

The prisoners had posted a sentinel in the person of James Perry. When people were passing he would sing out, "Soldiers, beware!" When the coast was clear, his voice gave out in a rich baritone, "Why don't you try?"

FISH SAYS THE CHARGES ARE OLD

Have Been Met and Disposed of and He States the Real Issues

NEW YORK, September 27.—Stuyvesant Fish tonight made public his reply to the circular letter sent out on Tuesday last by President Harahan of the Illinois Central, in which he declares that charges made by Harahan were not new, but had been published long ago, and "each met by me and disposed of."

"But on the point at issue to be decided by the stockholders of the Illinois Central at the coming annual meeting is nowhere touched upon," said Mr. Fish. "That issue is this: Shall the Illinois Central become a mere feeder and fattener of the Union Pacific? Can any such perversion of the purposes and opportunities of the Illinois Central be profitable to the stockholders? Will the Illinois Central stockholders submit to having all of their voice and power in the management and control of their property delegated to one man, under the power of attorney plan, which Mr. Harahan so adroitly used to his own profit?"

SHOT SQUAW WITH A PAPOOSE ON HER BACK

Struggle for Estate Develops an Interesting Story of Indian Fighting in Early Days.

BABE TAKEN TO RAISE BY A WEALTHY FAMILY

Death Placed Indian Girl in Possession of Estate—Now Eastern Relatives Are Contesting Her Rights in Court.

Ed Peck, an old-time government scout, Indian fighter and blazer of many a trail through the wilds and mountains of Arizona in the early days, was a visitor in Globe yesterday en route from Roosevelt to Canaan.

Peck is a regular walking storehouse of interesting tales, breathing of thrilling incidents and startling climaxes. "My stay in Globe must be brief this time," said the old scout yesterday afternoon as he sat sipping a long toddy in one of the Broad street cafes. "I have business that will consume about thirty days of my time in Mexico, and I must be back in Prescott by November to testify in the famous Brooks estate case."

"You know the story. 'No? 'Well, Brooks, a wealthy man in those days, picked up a little papoose on the battlefield after an engagement with a band of Apaches; took the foundling to his home, and I am confident, legally adopted the child later. Brooks died intestate a few years ago, and as no other heirs bobbed up or were known, all of his property passed to the adopted Indian child. Later alleged heirs in Cincinnati filed a contest and are trying to take the property away from the adopted Indian girl, who is now a woman 35 years of age."

"And why do I take such an interest in the case?"

"Listen: 'I was engaged in the controversy that left the now Miss Brooks, a papoose on a bloody battlefield, and it was a bullet from my gun that laid low her old squaw mammy.'"

"The squaws were fighting as fiercely as the bucks. The old squaw was doing very effective work. I took good aim and—"

"She dropped. 'As she fell I noticed a papoose was strapped to her back and as soon as I could safely approach the body I unlaced the babe and turned it over to Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, who reared the child, and I am confident, adopted it. 'The estate runs away up in the thousands and inasmuch as I shot the old mammy I am now going to do what I can for the little papoose I carried from the battlefield more than thirty years ago.'"

PROSECUTED MAN IN SELF DEFENSE

Negro Saloonkeeper Insists on Conviction of Man of His Own Color

Fearful lest his saloon license be revoked on the grounds that he is conducting a disorderly house, W. M. Green, colored, vigorously prosecuted John Webb, better known as "Slo-mo," one of his own race, in Justice Thomas' court yesterday afternoon.

Webb was arrested on a complaint sworn out by Green Thursday night, charging him with disturbing the peace. Webb, when arraigned yesterday afternoon, answered that he had no lawyer, but would conduct his own defense. The testimony, even of his own witnesses, went to show that Webb was a loud-mouthed trouble breeder and disturber, and the court, after administering a pretty good, off-hand lecture, sent the negro down to do fifteen days on the chain gang or come through with $15 in good money.

Webb didn't have the "wherewithal" and will commence work this morning.
